BRONCOS CRUSHED!

French Society Gives 'Tovarich'

Play Is Produced
In Little Theater
February 24, 25

Tickets For Drama
Twenty-Five Cents
For Students

Thursday and Friday marks the date of "Tovarich", the hilarious French comedy which is being produced by the members of Iota Delta Phi, French honor society. With Dr. Boris Lubowski, prominent language professor, in the lead, as Prince Mikail Alexandrovitch Ouratief, the play promises to be an outstanding success. Beatrice Cubicciotti, cast in the feminine role as Grande Duchesse Tatiana Petrovna, has, in rehearsal, brought forth a splendid characterization of the niece of the Tsar Nicholas the second, of Russia.

The play, which will be produced (Continued on Page Four)

Women Taboo In Spartan Daily Office Today As Men Edit College Paper

MALE PAGE TO BE FEATURED

Back to the days of Victoria we merrily go (with stream-line trappings), and woman's place is still in the home!

At least, women have no place around the Spartan Daily office today, advise Executive Editor Korsmeier and Managing Editor Minners, of the Daily staff.

"Campus women are definitely prohibited from entering the editorial sanctuary today," the editors warn. "Violators will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law."

All this afternoon the men of the paper's staff will be industriously applying finishing touches to the all-male edition which will hit the campus newstands tomorrow morning. At least two sport pages, and three pages of news and mannish photographs will be found in the eight page special (Continued on Page Four)

Radio Society To Present One-Act On KQW Tonight

Jean Holloway, State Co-ed, Is Author Of Play

As a tribute to George Washington, on this celebration of his birthday, the college Radio Speaking society will present an original one-act play, "Strange Victory", by Jean Holloway on the San Jose State college Radio Theater over KQW tonight at 8:00.

Heading the cast are Jeanne Bronson as Polly, Mr. Robert Gitter as Mr. Cotter, Wendell Huxtable as Tom, Marcia Frisbee as Georgie, Neal Warwick as Marshall, Reginald Greenbrook as Niven, and Dr. Dorothy Kaucher as Jennifer.

The play will be directed by Mr. William McCoard, and Gordon Roth will act as technical sound effects man. This series of one-act plays presented every Tuesday evening over KQW is sponsored by the Radio Speaking society, which was formed on the campus last quarter.

SPARTANS NEW CAGE CHAMPIONS

BILL HUBBARD'S FIVE DUMPS SANTA CLARA, 50-44

By FRED MERRICK

CIVIC AUDITORIUM, Feb. 21.—Bring out the victory banner, and from the highest points in Santa Clara valley, shout the praises of Coach Bill Hubbard's Spartan cagers. San Jose's favorite sons, a team of true champions, climbed onto the champion's throne of the Northern California Intercollegiate Basketball Conference tonight. The Spartans won the title and the third game of the Santa Clara

IBSEN'S DRAMA 'WILD DUCK' TO BE NEXT PLAY

With Dorothy Leverenz, Sylvia Flanner, Garrett Starmer, Paul Hobbs, and Johnson Mosier in the leading roles, "Wild Duck", a dramatic tragedy by Hendrik Ibsen, will be presented March 9, 10, and 11 in the Little Theater.

The play, one of Ibsen's best, is being produced under the direction of Mr. James Clancy of the Speech department as the fourth of the regular season.

Henry Marshall has an important character part in the role of Old Werle. Others in the cast are Hilda Hanchett, Victor Carlock, Charlie Leach, Kenneth Helvy, Norman Berg, Ely Dragoie, Bob Tremaine, Morah Jones, James Seigle, Wilmar Tognazzini, Fred Ross, Frank Wilson, Warren Lewis, Bob Gray, and Harry Sanders.

series with a clean-cut victory over the Broncos here tonight by a 50-44 score. A packed house of 5000 rabid basketball fans crammed every nook and cranny of the Civic Auditorium for the game.

Coach Hubbard's Spartans broke the spirit of the Barsi Broncos in the first half by holding a 27-20 lead at the midway point. Santa Clara never threatened in the final twenty minute period as the State five pulled away to lead by a seven to nine point margin throughout most of the half. Wild with anxiety, the Mission City quintet failed on many a chance under the basket.

Even the loss of Captain Frank Carroll and Willie Radunich during the second half failed to

DOOR PRIZE AT PRESS DANCE TO BE AIRPLANE RIDE — HELD IS PILOT

Specialty Act One Of Many Entertainment Numbers Given At Headline Hop; Bids Selling For $1.00

One of the most unusual door prizes ever conceived for a San Jose State college dance was promised yesterday by members of the Press club for the first annual Press dance to be held Saturday night at the Scottish Rite Temple. A free airplane ride in a plane piloted by orchestra leader Scott Held, himself, will be awarded the holder of the lucky ducat. Agreement on this unique form of prize was reached by Press club members yesterday noon as they met to formulate final entertainment plans for the "Headline Hop".

One of the high spots on the program of novel entertainment, according to Club President Frank Olson, will be a specialty number by the famous Phantom Photographer, Press club ghost extraordinary, who will be unmasked as a climax to the phantom camera campaign which has resulted in the awarding of two free dance bids to local collegians during the past two weeks. The Phantom's "dance of destiny" is only one small part of a program which will keep the dancers amused, thrilled, and excited during the course of the winter quarter's outstanding social event.

The Press dance will be strictly informal, in keeping with true city-room traditions. "A Night With The Press" is how the Headline Hop is being styled around the campus this week. Bids are selling at the Controller's office for $1.00.

TICKETS ON SALE

With over 50 San Jose State college boat ride tickets disposed of—the result of installment and outright sales during the last three weeks—Ticket Chairman Wayne Ellis late yesterday warned Spartans that there are only three more weeks left for their sale.

Tickets go on sale again today Wednesday in the quad from 12 noon until 2 p.m.

"The sale of 50 tickets at this early date is especially encouraging," Ellis stated yesterday. "We expect to sell approximately 500 before the deadline."

Ellis also informed Spartans that the "Dutch Treat" idea, introduced to take $4.00 burden from the shoulders of Spartan males, was progressing favorably, with ticket sales going about half and half.

Wood To Talk At Pegasus Club

Featuring a dissertation by Dr. James O. Wood of the English department on Archibald McLeish, and plans for a literary orgy among riendly members before the Phelan literary competition makes enemies, the Pegasus society will hold a meeting in Room 1 of the Home Economics building at 7:30 tonight.

Since this is the first active meeting of the quarter, all past, active, and inactive members of the campus literary society are requested by the executive group to attend the get-together.

Players Invite Contribution Of Original 3-Acts

Original three-act plays written by students are wanted for an all-student production to be presented during the spring quarter. The plays should be submitted to the San Jose Players on or before March 9.

Although no prize is being awarded, the student whose play is adjudged best will have the opportunity of seeing it presented. Any student attending San Jose State college may participate in the contest.

A committee composed of four teachers and four students will judge the manuscripts. Adaptions of novels will be acceptable, but original plays will be preferred.

THE SOCIAL WHIRL

By MARIAN SCHUMANN

REGARDLESS of who started the PRESS DANCE the fact remains that the biggest event casting its shadow on the social horizon is the HEADLINE HOP which is to be held Saturday night at the Scottish Rite Temple . . . It will be informal, which should be a welcome relief after the whirl of formal and semi-formal dances which have kept Staters on the go . . . FRANK OLSON, president of the Press club, states that it is to be positively the greatest dance of the school year . . . the bids are in the form of press passes and from listening through the keyhole, it seems that the clever bids are to admit Staters to an evening of thrills, fires, and everything . . . Bids may be obtained from the Publications office.

* * * *

KNIGHTS out . . . Saturday night members of the Spartan Knights held their annual semi-formal dance at the Scottish Rite Temple . . . Newly elected Duke Jack Wiles did a grand job of presenting a gala dance, according to reports . . . Also it is said that Jim Bailey really is one super Trucker . . . Some of the Knights and friends present were: Winifred Moening and Bob Tonkin; Norman Berg and Vivian Lindsay; Jane Werner, Gordon Hunt; Rejeana James, Francis Cauhape; Frank Olson, Marybelle Meredith; Bob Work, Gerry Stickles; Carl Wilcox, Benita Hooker; Mary Ellen Stull, Emerson Shaw; Jack Marsh, Joy Erbenraut; Mr. and Mrs. Michael Angelo; Dorothy Coates, Bob Swanson, Sterling Silver, Jean Scott, Bob Free, Frances Scott, Harvey White and friend from June Porter.

Thumbin' Thru

By FLORENCE TOLAND

INTRODUCTIONS IN ORDER

Its cover red and white checkered apron print . . . Its name—'The Country Kitchen' . . . Its author—Mrs. Della T. Lutes . . . Its publishers—Little, Brown and Co.

ROUND ABOUT THE KITCHEN

And there, girls, is an introduction to the most original book of 1938, which was awarded a prize for such by the American Booksellers Association. It is the portrait of a KITCHEN and what happens in and around it as painted by an author who takes her own story of a country family living in Southern Michigan in the 1870's.

AND NOW TO SETTLE DOWN

Because the outside of this "novel" book may be thought of as a gingham apron, the reader may, without further inspiration, slip it on and settle comfortably for an intimate taste of simple, easy, "smooth flowing" description of country living, charmed by the wit offered in each page and thrilled by the gift for landscape presentation and characters which seem to have more than an "everyday flavor".

JUST ONE CHARACTER

Thumbin' through the pages gives one an intense desire to scan further. I browsed down the table of contents and came to a chapter entitled "Old Wart", which proved to be "a huge earthy toad who invariably appeared along with other indications of spring". It develops that old Mr. Wart seems to be general overseer of the garden and stays from frost to frost.

INCLUDED WITHIN

Included in the small book's 261 pages are excerpts from the thread of family life, and an honest-to-goodness style description of "eats". THIS description develops into many recipes including everything from the pie line and the proper way to make marble cake to a concrete dissertation on the various ways of fixing chicken and an "exclusive" method of bringing forth scalloped potatoes.

ANSWER TO A MAIDEN'S PRAYER

Certainly this book is the answer of what to do with that spare time which invariably one finds after a siege with World Lit or American Con. "The Country Kitchen" is IT.

FASHION'S FABLES

By MARY FRANCES GURNEY

The lull of the week was broken on Friday night by that breath-taking St. Mary's-State game and after-game dance. On Saturday night the Spartan dancing crowd divided in two directions; some attending the Gypsy Home Ec dance at the Sainte Claire Hotel and others gathering at the Scottish Rite Temple for the Spartan Knight's Night.

A number of huge spreading skirts, exciting fabrics, and interesting styles prevailed at the gala Home Ec fete.

General Chairman of the dance . . . Beth Jarvis was charming in a really clever blue net over a red taffeta slip which produced the fascinating effect of that promient spring color, fuschia. Clips on the high neckline and a buckle were the only accents.

A shirred bolero . . . topped the aquamarine chiffon gown which Claire Shaffer, prexy of Home Ec chose to wear. Three strands of seed pearls were clasped about her neck.

An American beauty velvet blouse . . . was appropriately combined with a skirt of white lace for the evening by Mildred Hall. The bodice was neatly fitted.

A Grecian gown . . . was worn by Geraldine Rogers. The typical drape from sides to front was clasped by a sparkling buckle. The dress was fashioned from creamy white satin.

Simultaneously at the Scottish Rite Temple the Spartan Knights and their guests were in the midst of their semi-formal dance.

Coiffure flowers and veils again proved their popularity with college misses . . . sequins sparkle too!

Gold moire . . . was combined with brown in the dress of formal cut worn by Marion Ruge. The wide skirt swirled about in the most unusual fashion and then settled down to reveal two bands of brown around the hemline. A gold flower in her tresses was topped by a brown net veil.

And this week-end comes THE Winter sport dance of the quarter. (Even though this bread stuff is getting stale too, must have mine buttered). The Press club sponsors its Headline Hop on Saturday evening at the Scottish Rite Temple . . . and of course no one of any importance will miss it. (There, that is enough).

If you're planning on being one of the many guests present you might wear, very appropriately, a sport dress of some such color as dusky blue or navy accented with a gay bolero in a dazzling color contrast. Then if it's a glamorous spring night you might get out your new spring straw gabardine shoes, purse and gloves and you're off to spend an interesting evening.

Tickets are now on sale for the Volleyball Sports Spread which will be for the benefit of all participants in Inter-Society and Interclass volleyball tournaments. It will be March 8 from 4 to 6. It will cost 25 cents. A skit or song will be presented by each team.

Ethel Wright is back on the scene again after her illness.

Ping pong representative is Corrine Rizzo. The club meets on Friday noons and is contemplating a tournament soon.

Fencing club has been very active lately. Looks like we may be turning out some champion fencers in the near future.

New dance costumes have been purchased for the dance classes and they are hum-dingers. They are in blue and green with matching panties and very swank in cut. Fundamental Rhythms classes don't get in on the new outfits, however.

Tau Gamma, honorary women's P.E. society, will initiate three new members formally tonight at the home of Miss McFadden. New members are Barbara Whitman, Ethel Wright, and Dot Rakestraw. Jr. Orchesis elected Charlotte Veit as representative to the Women's Athletic Association council replacing Mildred Moor.

Representatives from Orchesis met last Monday with a committee from the men's dance group consisting of Jim Clancy, Peter Mingrone, Bill Jennings and Jack Green to discuss plans for a dance cycle including both groups.

Dr. Palmer attended a meeting of the Western Society of College Directors on Friday and Saturday in San Francisco.

Interclass volleyball sign-ups still going on. This is not for P.E. Majors only. Anyone is eligible. If you have played on an Inter-Society team, you are still eligible.

Teams on the Inter-Society tournament have each played three games. Allenians lost three, Betas won three, Eros lost two forfeited one, Kappas won two tied one, Phi Kaps won two tied one, and Sapphos won one and lost two.

Schedule for Wednesday is: Allenians versus Sapphos, Phi Kaps versus Eros, Betas versus Kappas.

AWS Recreation Night To Feature Music Of Elwood Hart's Band

Elwood Hart's swing band has been secured by the Associated Women Students for their Recreation Night which is to be held in the Men's gymnasium on March 5, according to Alberta Gross, general chairman for the affair. The band is well known on the campus having played for many noon dances and other swing sessions.

Dancing will be from 10 o'clock until 12 following a period of games which are scheduled to start at 7:30 and last until 10:00.

Games listed on the program are ping pong, row boat baseball, mass volleyball, shuffleboard and other deck games. Swimming will be open to both men and women students.

Miss Gross explained today that Recreation Night is not exclusive to the women students but that men

KAPPAS TO SKATE

Instead of their weekly meeting Kappa Kappa Sigma members will enjoy a skating party exclusive of masculine company at the Auditorium Roller Rink on Wednesday night.

After the party they will attend are invited to attend also. The night is planned for everyone. Games may be played during the earlier part of the evening or dancing may be enjoyed later.

dampen the spirits of the sizzling Spartans. As the Block S. J. section chanted out "our team is red hot", the Spartans boiled up and down court with a confidence which began to form just four weeks ago when San Jose took a victory over the U.S.F. Dons. Since that time the Washington Square hardwood five won nine of ten games, climbed from the conference depths to the titled position and embarked on a victory march which now stands at eight straight.

San Jose worked for every point in the first half. Until near the end of the period, the margin Radunich went out with nine minutes to go, and Carroll followed two minutes later. Bendeich and Johnson filled in and the Spartan machine rolled on.

Carroll led the scoring with 13 points while Kotta and Radunich each scored 11. Thomas was next high with nine. Giannini with 10 points and Heffernan with eight led the Broncos.

Bronco Yearlings Take Series With Strong 52-37 Win

San Jose Five Drops Out Of Game In Second Half

The Spartan yearling basketball team ran into a "hot" bunch of Broncolets at the Civic Auditorium last night and lost the rubber game of the series by a 52-37 decision. Coach Arnerich's cagers took the first contest, but dropped the second to Santa Clara by a two point margin.

The Spartans dropped out of the ball game with the opening of the second half. The first period saw both sides match point for point, as the Mission City frosh team held a 26-20 advantage at half time.

HALE STARS

Bruce Hale, who had been held in check during the other two contests, broke into the clear time and time again to give the Broncos a clear lead. Hale dominated the scoring with twenty points.

Carruth, Martin, and Anderson kept the local team in the contest during the initial period. But their points were matched with a flood of goals by Hale, Ferrick, Morrissey, and Mander. The Spartan Babes led during the first ten minutes, but the visitors took the lead at 13 to 12 and gradually piled up more points to run away with the contest.

SECOND HALF

Hale, Ferrick, Morrissey, and Mander were mainly instrumental in the second half splurge. The Broncolets started to roll after Carruth, Lakin, and Anderson left the fray on fouls, and the final few minutes saw the score go by the 50 mark.

Anderson with 13 and Carruth with 10 led the Spartan scoring.

Coach Gil Bishop and his victorious Spartan baseballers travel to Oakland this afternoon to tangle with the strong Athens Club nine in their second fracas of the season.

From results of contests played over the week-end, Coach Bishop and his club will have a tough game on their hands today. The Athen aggregation defeated the University of California nine last Saturday at Berkeley 4 to 3, in a hilarious affair. The Oakland club displayed mid-season form in defeating the Bears and will give the Spartans plenty of competition this afternoon.

Coach Bishop plans on starting his strongest combination against the Oakland club, with the exception of Carpenter on the mound. The local baseball mentor stated he would give Leroy Zimmerman of football fame, a chance to display his wares in the box. Bill Freitas, lanky relief twirler, will be on the sidelines to help Zimmerman if needed.

The rest of the starting lineup will probably be the same as the Indian fracas, namely, Morati at the signal calling department, McPherson at first, Sanchez at second, Riordan and Luque at short and third respectively. In the outfield Captain Tony Martinez, Haven Smith, and Pinky Garcia will cavort.

State plays its first home game of the season on Thursday afternoon when they meet the Oakland Oaks of the Pacific Coast League on Graham Field. Saturday the Bishopites pack their grips again and travel to San Francisco to take on the Dons.

NOTICE

Important rehearsal of Radio Speaking orientation program this afternoon at 3:00 sharp in Room 165. All persons who expect to take part in this program must be there at this time for microphone and sound rehearsal.

State Matmen To Meet California Here On Friday

Grapplers Home After Successful Tour In South

Bear Team Strongest On Coast; Possible Favorites

By DAN O'NEILL

It's Spartans versus Golden Bears on the mat this week.

Gene Grattan's pack of grapplers—back to work after their successful southern invasion last week—collide with University of California's matmen at Spartan Pavilion Friday night in what is expected to be the high spot of the local wrestling schedule.

Mat stock on Washington Square hit a new high the past week-end when Coach Grattan's muscle men copped matches from Whittier, Fullerton and Los Angeles. However, no soft touch will be encountered in meeting the Bears. The Berkeleyites are considered one of the outstanding squads on the coast and if any team is to dump the locals, count on California to do it.

During their triumphant tour down south, Coach Grattan emitted both elation and consternation. First of all, Chic Tonouye, competing in the 118 pound division, won his first college bout against Lee of Whittier. Chic is completely new to the game and his win pleased Grattan very much. The little Japanese proved his victory was no fluke by coping his second victory Saturday night against Los Angeles J.C. As a result of these triumphs Tonouye looms as a definite threat for the remainder of the season.

Jack Fiebig suffered his first college defeat at the hands of Louis Largey of Los Angeles J.C. Jack's loss surprised everyone and Grattan most of all. He had the better of the match all along but Largey caught him off guard and pinned him in 6:25.

Other Spartan favorites came through in expected fashion against the southerners. Coming back with three victories were Hughes, Olavarri, Jones, Rush, and Smith. Riddle and Masdeo won single victories while Lindgren lost in one bout against Fullerton.

Spartan Boxers Return To Local Ring; Face U.S.F. Dons Here Thursday Night

By WALT HECOX

And the Dons shall pay for Spartan blood . . .

At least this is the theory of the followers of boxing who will watch the twice beaten Spartan mittmen give vent to their wrath in the local pavilion against USF Thursday night.

Beaten by the two boxing powers of the northwest, the Spartans will be out Thursday to show local fans that they are still in the running for Intercollegiate honors with a vengeance.

MACE vs. WREN

Foremost on the evening's program will be the meeting between Jimmy Mace, ex-Intercollegiate champion, and the pride of Don knuckle bouncers these past three years, and lathlike Dale Wren, who in spite of his narrow build, is noted for his punching power. These two boys will meet at 1:15 pounds.

Mace was beaten three times last year. Twice by the National and Pacific Coast Intercollegiate champion from Washington State, Ray Petragallo, and once by San Jose State college's Tony Pisano.

In both Intercollegiate tourneys Jim advanced to the finals, only to meet the hard-hitting little northerner and lose out in three torrid rounds.

PAAU CHAMPION

Wren has been defeated twice in his career. Once by National Featherweight Champion Ed Walling, and once by the man who has inherited Petragallo's spot, Cougar Bantamweight Don Blessinger. Wren won both Senior and Junior PAAU championships here, and when he defeated Idaho's Ralph Miller he won from the Northwest Golden Gloves champion of last year . . . At the time Miller was winning this Golden Gloves title, Wren was proudly wearing the crown of Novice Champion at San Jose State college.

JIM MACE

The coming battle between Wren and Mace should give local fans an idea as to whether or not the Intercollegiate will have a three way battle between Blessinger and the two bay region lads for the title or not.

NEW MEN APPEAR

Several new men may appear on the Spartan roster Thursday. Gene Fisk, strong sophomore welter, and Byron Lanphear, hard-hitting middleweight, will probably appear against the Dons. Fisk is a powerful youngster who thrives on competition. He is an exceptionally straight puncher and appears to be able to take it.

Long known as the clown of the Bay region amateurs is Byron (Lord) Lanphear, who may fight at 169 pounds. Lanphear has been training seriously under the direction of Benny Melzer in Coach Portal's absence. Melzer, former Spartan captain and PAAU champion, acting as Dee's trainer, has kept the stay-at-homes working like truck horses.

Coach Bill Hubbard

between the two squads never reached more than three points. Plotting the downfall of the Broncos, the Spartans weaved through the Santa Clara defense. Calm, smooth passing with a seemingly unconcerned ease, rolled the Spartans around and under the opposing basket.

With their zone defense shifting to meet the Bronco offensive, the Spartans held all but Giannini during the first half. "Hot Toddy", who later cooled to a frigid pace, collected nine points in this period, but added only one more in the finale.

Tonight's victory won the present series for San Jose, a feat which the Spartans had previously been unable to accomplish. After the opening minutes of the final half, the outcome began to appear more visible. Santa Clara romped in for close in shots, but they either went wild or were blocked by Spartans. The Broncos drew up to 34-29 at which point the Spartans took time out. Two rapid goals by Kotta, and San Jose was again well on the way.

CAST OF MUSICAL COMEDY FOR REVELRIES SELECTED

Work Commencing On Annual Big Show; Chorus Girls To Practice This Afternoon In Morris Dailey

Bailey Selects Lead For "Hop, Skip, And Cheer"

Three members of the cast for "Hop, Skip, and Cheer", the musical comedy for the Spartan Revelries, have been definitely selected by Director Jim Bailey, who has announced that Victor Carllock is to play the part of the college dean.

The other two characters cast are the two leads, which are portrayed by Elree Ferguson and Clayton Thorup.

Peter Mingrone, campus electrician who handled all the lighting effects of last year's Revelries, has been assigned the same task this year. Mingrone has had charge of all the electrical work at the college for the past three or four years.

Another member of the technical staff is Norman Berg, who has again been chosen stage director. Berg held the same position last year. He is also designing the several large sets necessary for the show.

Work is definitely commencing for the big show and this afternoon will find the chorus girls in the Morris Dailey auditorium at five o'clock going through routines. A bevy of forty girls answered the request of Bailey for dancers. Among the dances to be learned will be tap, waltzing, and truckin'.

REED CLASSES TO GIVE CONCERT THURSDAY

Three ensembles from the advanced reed classes will give a concert Thursday morning at nine o'clock in the main room of the Music building under the direction of Mr. Thomas Eagan, music instructor.

Taken from the outstanding members of the reed classes, these students will institute a series of like concerts, which the music department will attempt to present every quarter, according to Mr. Eagan.

Among the compositions which are J. Bouffill's Grand Trio for Three Clarinets, the Petit Quartet by W.A. Crosse, and A.J. Artot's Four Short Quartets.

MUSIC CONTEST CLOSING DATE APRIL 2

Several compositions have already been turned in for the San Jose State Creative Music composition contest, according to Mr. Adolph Otterstein, head of the Music department.

Mr. Otterstein urges students who plan to enter to begin completing their compositions as the contest will close on April 2, approximately four school days away.

The compositions turned in are numbered and treated anonymously to assure complete impartiality in the judging. The best of the entries are sent to a noted music critic for the final judging.

Three Of Most Prominent Women In America On San Jose State Faculty

DOCTORS PALMER, KAUCHER, YATES LISTED IN "WHO'S WHO" OF FEMININITY

Ranking among the most prominent women in America are three San Jose State college faculty members, as revealed in the who's who for women, a recently revised edition entitled "American Women".

Dr. Irene Palmer, Dr. Dorothy Kaucher, and Dr. Dorothy Yates are the three women listed in "American Women", which is the only biographical dictionary devoted exclusively to women.

In the information given about Dr. Palmer were the facts that she received her Ph.D. from Yale and was previously director of the department of health and physical education at Whittier college. She taught at U.S.C. and her hobbies are poetry and reading. She had published "Tests and Measurements" in 1932.

Dr. Kaucher, the book revealed, took her Ph.D. at Cornell University, was a member of Phi Beta Kappa, formerly taught at the University of California, and is the author of "Bos'n", "Mr. Bumpus" and articles on flying.

Dr. Yates was listed as having taken her Ph.D. at the University of California and was a Phi Beta Kappa there. Her hobbies are gardening and walking, and she is the author of the book "Psychological Racketeers" and several scientific articles.

BEHIND NEWS CLASS HEARS BRAHMACHARI

National Movement In India Subject Of Talk

Discussing the growing national movement in the British Dominion of India, the growing discontent among the native populace against the rule of a foreign power, Dr. Mahanam Brata Brahmachari, a member of the highest caste in India, the Hindus, and graduate from the University of Chicago, will speak before the Behind the News class today in the Little Theater.

The Japanese conquest of China has intensified this feeling, according to Dr. Brahmachari, and many experts predict a revolution on the Asiatic peninsula within two years.

Should Japan conquer China, her next goal may well be India, and many foreign observers believe that a general uprising may be expected, thus playing right into the hands of the Japanese.

Anyone interested in the question is cordially invited to attend the session, as there are many seats in the rear that are not taken.
